

Facebook Live Mastery – Resources

Report

Resource #1

Look for examples on Facebook of popular live events

What presentation style do they use?

How well does the event flow?

What engagement tactics did they use?

What style of thumbnail do they use?

What are the most popular comments?

How do they pitch their offers?

What calls to action do they use?

How good is the lighting, video and audio quality?

Goal: You can get inspiration for your Facebook Live events by looking at previous events hosted by others. This will help you to plan your event and provide structure to it.

Resource #2

Have a good look at Facebook Analytics and identify the metrics that will help you with your Facebook Live events

Search for the best quality HD webcam and USB microphone that you can purchase at a reasonable price so that you create high quality Facebook Live events

Research how to use all of the features of Facebook Live

Look for case studies online of successful Facebook Live events that have really benefited businesses

Research which days and times are the best for hosting a Facebook Live event for your audience

Goal: You need to plan your Facebook Live event so that it has the best chance of being successful. Using the right tools is very important as is holding your event at the right time to increase your chances of high viewer numbers.

Resource #3

Identify the engagement tactics used in the most successful Facebook Live events

Research third party tools that can provide more engagement features for your Facebook Live event

Learn how to add captions to your recorded event videos

Research the best questions to ask your audience for maximum engagement

Goal: It is very important that you create the most engaging Facebook Live events that you can. This will help to keep your audience viewing your events and persuade them to purchase your offers.

Resource #4

Find successful "how to" Facebook Live events that you can model

Find successful product launch events that you can model

Find successful question and answer Facebook Live events that you can model

Find successful interviews with experts Facebook Live events you can model

Find good product or service demonstration Facebook Live events that you can model

Goal: You need to ensure that your Facebook Live events are interesting for your audience and will attract a lot of views. By modeling the approach of other successful events you will increase your chances of a successful event.